Vision Statement

Our vision is to improve the quality of life in Randolph County through generosity that lasts for generations.

Letter From Executive Director

Dear Friends,

It is always a joy to present you with the stories of charity within our communities every year.

Miriam Beard once said the “results of philanthropy are always beyond calculation.” My friends, no calculation can compare to the overwhelming joy I feel when I hear that a once struggling charitable organization in our county can continue doing good because of the receipt of a charitable gift. Or that a family can be assured their child has proper care and nutrition each day because of a nonprofit organization.

The good work that takes place throughout our community doesn’t just happen, though. It takes the hard work of a dedicated charitable organization director. It takes countless volunteers spending countless hours ensuring their favorite charities can carry out a mission. It takes the generosity of current and past residents who are passionate about helping their neighbors or former hometown.

This annual report is a reminder of how hard our communities work to take care of each other.

Friends, thank you for your support this year. We wouldn’t be able to do what we do without you!

Lisa

The RESULTS of PHILANTHROPY
are always BEYOND CALCULATION.
- Miriam Beard

Love Your Community

What does love have to do with philanthropy?

Philanthropy is the love of humanity driven by a deep attachment to the world and our duty to the people in it. We want to connect /invest in people, the hearts behind the work, because the heart is where real change can begin. We ask you to join us for another 25 years in connecting and investing with others, and doing good in Randolph County .

Faces at the Foundation Spotlight

Joyce Husmann

Joyce Husmann has been a major supporter and volunteer at the Community Foundation since joining the Board of Directors in 2012. During her time as a math teacher and then guidance counselor in Union City, Joyce became familiar with the Foundation's Scholarship program and greatly appreciated the efforts being taken to further the education of Randolph County's students, including her two Lilly Endowment recipient children. Following her retirement, Joyce was happy to become more directly engaged with the Foundation, learning about the other programming we offer and forming personal connections with the inspiring young scholars receiving our awards. Since her decision to join the board, Joyce has made many impactful contributions, from promoting the Women's Fund and James & Linda Noffsinger Fund, to serving as the Chair of our Scholarship Committees from 2015 to the present. Having been raised in Bremen, IN and moving to Union City in 1974, Joyce brings a unique perspective to the Board, which is mainly composed of members born and raised in this community. Joyce feels that her involvement with the Foundation is just one more way she feels connected to the community she chooses to call home. She remains impressed with the deep and diverse reach of the Foundation's community support and continues to value our county-wide outreach approach. From her time on the Board, Joyce has met many of the behind-the-scenes volunteers working to better Randolph County, people that motivate her to continue making a difference through her roles at CFRC. She feels great admiration for her colleagues and friends on the Board, recognizing the variety of talents and passions they bring to the table. Joyce herself is an integral part of the Foundation, her dedication as an educator improving our programs and ensuring the continuation of a legacy. Thank you Joyce for everything you have done and continue doing for CFRC and our community!

“ According to Joyce, her desire to stay active and involved is partially inspired by her father. At the age of 95, he continues to serve his church and community, setting a wonderful example for Joyce just as she does for others here in Randolph County. ”

Randolph County Hero Nominations

The News-Gazette and the Community Foundation of Randolph County continue their celebration of local heroes who have made an impact on the community or have gone above and beyond expectations to serve others. This effort is the result of a community foundation program that helps recognize such people while also raising money to help others.

“We thought a really neat thing would be to create a list of Randolph County Heroes,” said Community Foundation board member Cathy Stephen Miller of the ongoing program which started in 2015. “For $1,000, anyone can nominate a person (living or deceased), organization, business, or community organization for the designation as a Randolph County Hero. The money goes into our Randolph County Hero Unrestricted Fund, which the board uses to do great things for Randolph County. It all has to do with making Randolph County a great place to live.”

People who are designated as Randolph County Heroes will have his or her name on a plaque in their honor at the foundation office and will be featured in the News-Gazette.

Spectacular Donor Spotlight

Chris and Doreen Culy

Chris and Doreen Culy are significant proponents of creating growth in Randolph County. Their business ventures have allowed them to become one of the largest employers in the area, fulfilling their mission of creating rewarding jobs for people in their hometown. Chris believes that flourishing local businesses is one of the best ways to keep native Hoosiers in the county and possibly draw new ones in. In addition to promoting the wellbeing of our community by providing jobs, the Culy's have greatly impacted local organizations, like the YMCA, through their generous donations. After meeting with the Foundation Executive Director in 2019, Doreen decided that the best way to further their philanthropic efforts was to create their own unrestricted endowment fund that could be utilized at the Foundation's discretion. As a result, they established the Chris & Doreen Culy Family Charitable Fund in late January with hopes that this endowment will help sustain Randolph County non-profits for years to come. Doreen also supports the Foundation in another endeavor close to her heart, helping kids better themselves through education. From the establishment of the Randolph County Promise Community Fund in 2018 through the CollegeChoice 529 Savings Plan Program to the present, Doreen has invested in this cause. She created 529s for both of her sons in order to give them the opportunity for higher education if they chose that path and believes that every child should be provided with that same hope for achieving their future aspirations. Chris and Doreen have loved experiencing the impact of their efforts so far and believe that their giving has been a blessing to both them and those that have received the fruit of their donations.

“Chris and Doreen were led to philanthropy by their Christian values, as well as the giving spirit instilled in them by their parents. They appreciate the presence of the Foundation as an overseer of many diverse funds, allowing community members, such as themselves, to contribute to causes that are important to them.”

A Good Neighbor: EDP Renewables

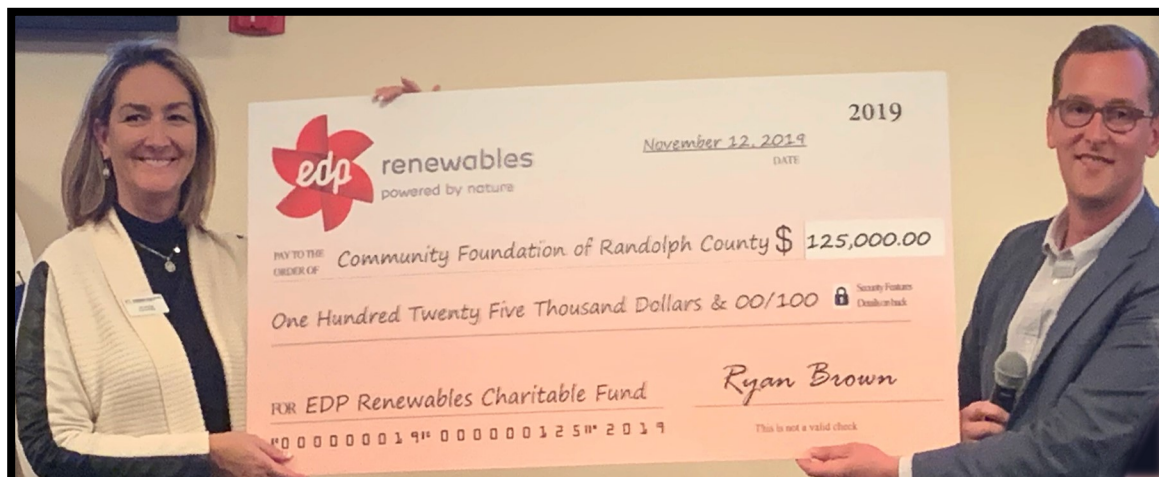

EDP Renewables North America (EDPR) announced a $125,000 donation to the Community Foundation of Randolph County on November 12, 2019 as part of its ongoing commitment to the Randolph County community. EDPR's donation was also part of a 2-1 match, allowing the Community Foundation to take full advantage of Lilly Endowment's GIFT VII Matching Grant Program. Community foundations are made possible when people and organizations give back to their community like EDPR is doing with this gift.

During the annual donor appreciation event, EDPR Executive Vice President Ryan Brown publicly announced the $125,000 donation and shared the positive impact EDPR's planned Headwaters II Wind Farm and Riverstart Solar Park will have on Randolph County.

"EDP Renewables believes in being a good neighbor and supporting the communities that host our wind farms and solar parks, explained EDPR's Brown. "We are building enough clean energy capacity in Randolph County to power more than 150,000 Indiana homes and this donation is one way for us to thank the residents of Randolph County."

"The newly established EDP Renewables Charitable Fund is a permanent investment in Randolph County, allowing the Community Foundation to award grant dollars to improve the lives of the residents of the County, today, tomorrow, and forever," said Lisa Jennings, Executive Director of the Community Foundation of Randolph County. "The EDP Renewables Charitable Fund, made possible by EDPR, is endowed, meaning that the foundation invests the money and uses the gains from those investments to do good things in our community year after year. It is like EDPR is making a gift that will continually give back to our community for years and decades. Wind and solar energy are all about sustainability and this gift from EDPR is about charitable sustainability for our County."

EDPR is continuing a tradition of support, as the company has previously donated to the Community Foundation of Randolph County's Randolph County Promise program, a program designed to encourage students to begin thinking about and preparing for vocational or college education after high school.

2019 Lilly Scholarship

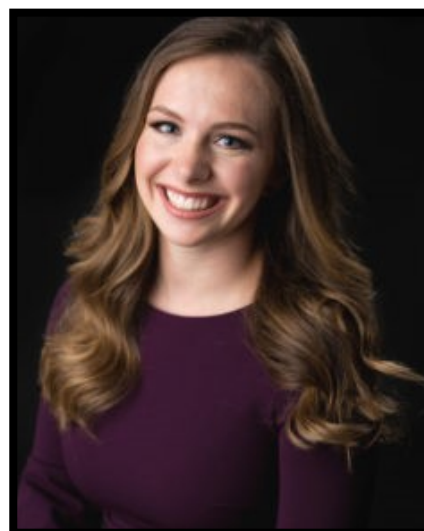

Randolph County students with a cumulative GPA of 3.5 or higher were invited to apply for the 2019 Lilly Endowment Community Scholarship. Fifty-three students applied. They were scored on their academic ability, extracurricular activities, community involvement, work history, honors, and awards. Applicants were also scored on essays that they wrote about themselves detailing their future goals and aspirations. Five finalists were selected for interviews, and Sydney Conn of Winchester Community High School was selected to receive the scholarship.

Quote From Sydney

“As a recipient of the Lilly Endowment Community Scholarship, I can honestly say that this scholarship has changed my life. Not only did this provide tremendous financial aid for college, but it allowed me to attend a university I would not have previously considered, and take advantage of all the opportunities they offer. As a Lilly Scholar, DePauw University provides a free study abroad, as well as room and board at no cost. But aside from the financial aspect, I have been able to connect with many other Lilly Scholars both at DePauw and the wider Lilly Community. This gives me a platform to talk with students across the state I would have never met otherwise. The Lilly Endowment is so much more to me than just a scholarship; it is a community of leaders that I know will make their communities a better place, and push me to do the same.”

Lilly Endowment Community Leadership Grant

Starting in early 2019, Community Foundation of Randolph County (CFRC) had the opportunity to apply for more funds through Lilly Endowment's GIFT Phase VII for community leadership grants. This component included both planning and implementation grants, which are intended to help the Foundation deepen its understanding of the challenges and opportunities facing its community; convene key local stakeholders and explore how it can effectively play a leadership role in implementing initiatives and strategies that enhance the quality of life in Randolph County.

The 3 main components for the $50,000 planning grant are:

Increasing Community knowledge and connections: We entered into a partnership/contract with the Indiana Communities Institute of Ball State University alongside Randolph County United to further engage our community in a discussion on what our assets and needs are. This will result in a plan that will help shape grant making decisions for CFRC as well as help the county plan for our future. Our Lilly Endowment GIFT Phase VII Planning Committee for this grant is comprised of CFRC Executive Director/CEO Lisa Jennings, CFRC board members Bob Gentry, Cathy Stephen Miller and Dakota Crabtree. Along with Randolph County United, a 25-person group representing the county attend customized Community Development Training offered by Indiana Communities Institute of Ball State. The collaborative training included representation from CFRC, RCEDC, our five school systems, city and county government officials, local tourism, Winchester Main Street and more. The goal is to learn more about community development and opportunities garnered from the ongoing Cultivating Community efforts.

Increase knowledge and skills: CFRC engaged a consultant who worked with our board to ensure a common understanding of the roles within the Foundation. After learning more about the culture, capacity and, desires of CFRC, the consultant worked with CFRC to understand the various opportunities for further engagement in leadership in Randolph County that match our capacity with needs identified by the Cultivating Community effort. The intent is to further strengthen the collaboration between the CFRC, Randolph County United and Ball State/ICI for an even more powerful partnership.

Increase internal capacity: In order to allow more time for community development planning and work, we implemented new software program (and related training) to streamline our process for scholarships and grants. This work currently is done in-house by CFRC Program Officer and it is quite time-consuming for this position, the Applicants and for the Committees involved. The goal of implementing a new system is in the fall of 2020. This new system will provide efficiencies and move the Foundation forward in stronger and better interaction between our communities' non-profit partners within both these important areas of work of the foundation. The greater our focus on leadership related initiatives the more likely this will impact overall programs of the Foundation.

We look forward to the opportunities in the future with Community Leadership initiatives!

Exciting Happenings

Celebrating a New Location

On Thursday, May 23, 2019, the Community Foundation of Randolph County held an open-house and ribbon cutting to celebrate our new location next to First Merchants Bank on Washington Street in downtown Winchester.

The new location, previously occupied by First Merchants Insurance, is shared with the Winchester Foundation

The Community Foundation of Randolph County was recently recognized for meeting the highest industry standards for U.S. Community Foundations.

Excellence. Accountability. Impact.™

The National Standards for U.S. Community Foundations Accreditation Program

represents a community foundation's commitment to going above and beyond federal and state requirements to demonstrate accountability and excellence to communities, policymakers, and the public. As community foundations face regulation at the state and the federal level, the accreditation program provides an additional layer of rigorous, sector-driven and enforced accountability.

The Accreditation Seal is only awarded to those community foundations that continue to meet comprehensive standards. Those receiving the Accreditation Seal have demonstrated their commitment to the success and well-being of every cause and person they support, and are willing and able to stand by every grant they have made. Dollars set aside for charity are limited. The Accreditation Seal signals to donors and to their professional advisers that a community foundation is a sound place to give and make a difference. 92 percent of the nation's largest community foundations participate in the National Standards Program. All community foundations receiving accreditation must meet 26 National Standards. Updated in 2014, these standards show that the Community Foundation of Randolph County, Inc. strives to achieve operational excellence.
